

Benefits of WEB Membership

What is WEB?

WEB is committed to the development of employee benefits professionals. Changing legislation, technology and market forces continue to reshape the employee benefit profession, products and delivery systems into the 21st century. WEB provides a forum for benefits professionals to gather information and exchange ideas through educational programs, publications and networking opportunities on a national basis and at local chapters. WEB provides regularly scheduled educational programs through its chapters and nationwide webinars, featuring government speakers, preeminent industry leaders and key in-house benefits professionals.

Why Join WEB?

National Benefits At the national level, your membership includes:

- Deeply discounted live webinars sponsored by WEB and free access to certain live webinars sponsored by American Benefits Council (ABC)
- Members-only access to the areas of the WEB website that feature prerecorded webinars, technical articles and speaker presentations from WEB chapters around the country
- Free members-only access to Benefits Insider, a semi-monthly online trade journal produced by ABC that provides the latest developments from our Nation's capital
- Free members-only access to the searchable, online WEB Membership Directory, where you can connect and collaborate with other WEB Members across the country
- Free members-only access to certain online libraries published by the Practical Law Company (PLC), an internationally recognized leader in legal publications
- Free resume and job postings on WEB's Job Bank (each member is entitled to a limited number of postings annually; additional postings may be purchased at a discounted rate)

Chapter Benefits WEB currently has local chapters in Atlanta, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland/Northeast Ohio, Dallas, Houston, and New York City. At the chapter level, your membership includes:

- Two for one membership in both the national organization and local chapter
- Deeply discounted fees for regularly scheduled in-person and online educational programs and networking events
- Some chapters offer free admission to certain events and host member-only appreciation events
- Free or deeply discounted continuing education credits (many programs are preapproved for HRCI and SHRM continuing education credit; some chapters offer legal, insurance, accounting and/or World at Work continuing education credit)
- Unparalleled in-person networking opportunities with a variety of local benefits professionals
